

Stainless Steel Outdoor Wall Lights For a Classy Contemporary Look

If you are lucky enough to have moved into a new property where all mod cons have been provided and the garden is wonderfully landscaped, you will want to show it off to its best effect. Inside you will probably have furniture and soft furnishings to reflect your taste and style, possibly outdoors too. A wonderful finishing touch to your property exterior would be to install stainless steel outdoor wall lights. Contemporary, modern and classy looking, they will enhance any courtyard, garden or verandah with sophisticated and elegant style.

Stainless steel outdoor wall lights come in an astounding variety of designs. It is a material with which designers and manufacturers have long been familiar, and so, the shapes reflect innovative considerations as well as conventional appearance. Stainless steel outdoor wall lights would be ideal for crisp, fresh look, well-suited to minimalist or monochrome décor schemes.

Retro, nouveau, avant garde, quirky, funky or deliberately plain, stainless steel can be formed into such a range of shapes you will be spoilt for choice. Sometimes austere simple bands can look absolutely outré – a case of ‘less is more’. Of course, you need to select lights that will perform the function required in their position. Perhaps you wish to light the side of a porch entrance or ensure that a house number is seen. There are plenty of options from which to choose, including models that have an integral PIR motion sensor if security is also an issue you wish to address with your lighting plan. Browse through a catalogue and look at examples of the lights, not just in the listings, but also where they might be displayed in feature photographs to give you an idea how they might be used for best effect.

Many stainless steel wall lights are available as LED lights, so a selection of them wouldn't cause any major running costs, as this type of lighting is very economical and the bulbs are extremely long-lasting. Combined with glass or acrylic shades they are easily maintained with just an occasional wipe with a damp cloth required, to keep them looking at their best.

Because of the 'industrial' associations with steel, it makes a magnificent contrast to slender bamboo canes or leafy palms and can create a contemporary exotic look.

Singapore's Changai airport has some of the most modern installations in contemporary design and the display of orchids in simple rectangular planters, banded with polished metal, is striking. Stainless steel outdoor wall lights will partner well with polished chrome finishes too so if you have garden furniture in this style, you will have found a natural, elegant partner that will enhance the overall look.

Choose pots and planters with a metallic accent that highlights the use of stainless steel outdoor wall lights and you will be surprised how it 'brings together' the décor theme. If the interior of your home has stainless steel finishes on light fittings, kitchen fittings or door furniture, it is a natural progression to continue with the medium outdoors.
